Networking the Republic of Letters, 1550-1750

Established in 2009, and now in our fourth phase (April 2017 – September 2018), we are a collaborative, interdisciplinary research project based at the University of Oxford with funding from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. We are using digital methods to reassemble and interpret the correspondence networks of the early modern period.

The Letter Catchers by Annaliese Stoney for Cultures of Knowledge (with inspiration from Pier Francesco Molà)

CLARIN in a nutshell

- CLARIN is the Common Language Resources and Technology Infrastructure;
- it provides easy and sustainable access for scholars in the humanities and social sciences and beyond
- to digital language data (in written, spoken, video or multimodal form),
- and advanced tools to discover, explore, exploit, annotate, analyse or combine them, wherever they are located
- through a single sign-on online environment.

What's it all about?

- Discovery
- Support
- Sustainability
- Interoperability
- Cross-border collaboration
